

...mission of the University and service to the wider community for internationalizing
...การพัฒนาระบบการประเมินผล การสอนและการเรียนการสอน

Department's submit documents related to the course, syllabus, and program
...outcomes and the minimum requirements for the program

Documentation, including a list of outcomes and assessment sources, and a list of required core courses as reviewed by the Assessment Committee.

Engaging research projects submitted by departments and chairs of all disciplines.

Annual program assessment reports.

Utilization of assessment data to inform teaching and learning in this program.

Assessment data is used to inform teaching and learning in this program. The data is used to identify areas of strength and areas for improvement. The data is used to inform the development of new courses and the revision of existing courses. The data is used to inform the development of new programs and the revision of existing programs. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment tools and the revision of existing assessment tools. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment strategies and the revision of existing assessment strategies. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment reports and the revision of existing assessment reports. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment committees and the revision of existing assessment committees. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment processes and the revision of existing assessment processes. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment policies and the revision of existing assessment policies. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment procedures and the revision of existing assessment procedures. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment standards and the revision of existing assessment standards. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment benchmarks and the revision of existing assessment benchmarks. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment metrics and the revision of existing assessment metrics. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment indicators and the revision of existing assessment indicators. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment tools and the revision of existing assessment tools. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment strategies and the revision of existing assessment strategies. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment reports and the revision of existing assessment reports. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment committees and the revision of existing assessment committees. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment processes and the revision of existing assessment processes. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment policies and the revision of existing assessment policies. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment procedures and the revision of existing assessment procedures. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment standards and the revision of existing assessment standards. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment benchmarks and the revision of existing assessment benchmarks. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment metrics and the revision of existing assessment metrics. The data is used to inform the development of new assessment indicators and the revision of existing assessment indicators.